

Kevin H. Smith served as a state representative to the New Hampshire Legislature from 1996-1998, earning the Christian Coalition's "Pro-Family" House Member of the Year honor in 1998. He worked on staff for former United States Senator, Bob Smith, and former New Hampshire Governor, Craig Benson. Kevin also served as the Deputy Director for New Hampshire's Division for Juvenile Justice. He currently serves as the Executive Director for Cornerstone Policy Research.

Kevin graduated with his B.A. in Communications from the University of New Hampshire. In 2008, Kevin served as the president of the local chapter for the Public Relations Society of America. He and his wife, Suzy, reside in Litchfield, NH with their three children.