

VOTE SCORECARD

112TH CONGRESS SECOND SESSION

U.S. House of Representatives and U.S. Senate

Dear Voter and Friend of the Family:

FRC Action and CitizenLink present our Vote Scorecard for the Second Session of the 112th Congress. This scorecard outlines votes on legislation and nominations that FRC Action and CitizenLink either supported or opposed. It provides you with information about how your elected representatives voted on key issues affecting the family.

In reaction to the liberal agenda of President Barack Obama and the 111th Congress, the 2010 elections brought about a Republican majority in the House as well as a pro-family and pro-life majority. This led to passage of pro-life legislation in the first session in 2011 restoring the ban on federal funding of abortion in the District of Columbia, passage of the "No Taxpayer Funding of Abortion Act" by a wide bipartisan majority to remove abortion from the Obama health care law, and repeated votes to repeal and defund the widely unpopular health care law which was pushed through Congress in 2010. These efforts were blocked by the liberal majority in the Senate. After the repeal of "Don't Ask, Don't Tell" in the lame duck session of 2010, the House attempted to pass legislation to ensure that Pentagon funds were not used to perform same-sex marriage ceremonies on military bases, and to reiterate support for the Defense of Marriage Act since the administration decided not to defend it in multiple court cases.

This year, with the economy's continued weakness, with the health care law's outcome uncertain before the Supreme Court and "sequestration" budget cuts looming in the Defense Department and other agencies—and with the upcoming election—Congress again failed to pass most of the government spending bills through regular order. Therefore, action on pro-life and pro-family legislation was minimal. At the time of this publication, an agreement to pass a "continuing resolution" to continue to fund the government well past the election is reportedly in place, and this means additional pro-life/pro-family provisions added to some House spending bills will not see action this year. Other amendments we scored in the House also will not be negotiated with the Senate.

This scorecard therefore contains six House votes on issues important to the American people. One concerns an amendment that would have protected the 1996 Defense of Marriage Act, the federal law which the administration has refused to defend in court. The House did vote on a ban on sex-selection abortions and a ban on late term child pain-capable abortions. While these bills received a majority vote, they failed to pass since House leaders agreed to the votes only under a fast-track rule requiring a two-thirds vote to pass. After the damaging Supreme Court ruling upholding Obamacare based on the incredibly illogical premise that mandating people to buy insurance is constitutional under the taxation power—the House voted again to repeal Obamacare. The Senate avoided such a vote. At a time when the Obama Administration is expanding its power through executive action, we scored a vote in the House on a bill that passed the Senate last year to eliminate the current requirement for Senate confirmation for a number of presidential appointments.

We also scored fewer votes in the Senate than we did in 2011. Once again, the Senate failed to pass a budget and the spending bills did not see any floor activity. Many of President Obama's judicial nominees were confirmed by the Senate, yet conservatives opposed a number of liberal jurists who view the Constitution as a document to be stretched based on their own philosophies—most notably Andrew David Hurwitz of Arizona to be U.S. Circuit Judge for the Ninth District. Unfortunately, a small number of Senate conservatives unsuccessfully opposed the nomination of Michael Walter Fitzgerald of California to be U.S. District Judge for the Central District of California. Conservatives also fought the nomination of Mari Carmen Aponte to be ambassador to the Republic of El Salvador, due in part to her pro-abortion and pro-gay marriage efforts and opposition by many in that country. Her nomination passed despite the Senate having already rejected her nomination late last year. We also scored against a campaign finance bill—the DISCLOSE Act—which aims to add government restrictions on First Amendment free-speech protections for those mentioning candidates and parties, even if they already comply with campaign-finance rules. The effect would be to stifle donor privacy unrelated to campaign contributions, a not-so-veiled attempt to protect incumbents.

We scored against a bill to reauthorize the Violence Against Women Act of 1994, since this new version would do less to help victims of abuse than fund government bureaucrats and liberal interest groups—and would discriminate against religious grantees opposed to homosexual behavior. In another sign that the Senate majority backs the president's animus to religious organizations, the Senate defeated an amendment containing the "Respect for Rights of Conscience Act" which would restore conscience rights in the wake of the administration's mandate that religious employers and individuals violate their consciences by paying for and participating in health care plans that include possible abortifacients, contraceptives and sterilizations. Despite the House's ability to pass similar legislation to protect religious freedom, leaders in that chamber chose not to do so.

The votes recorded here are only a part of our effort to protect the family as much work this year has been directed to stopping intrusive and discriminatory government regulations. As we work to defend traditional, pro-family policies in Washington, we encourage you to stay engaged as informed and active constituents. Your involvement is a great asset in the battle to preserve the American family. Thank you for joining us in our defense of the family.

HOUSE PRO-FAMILY ISSUES

Prohibit the Justice Department from Undermining the Defense of Marriage Act

Offered by Rep. Tim Huelskamp (R-KS), this amendment (H.AMDT. 1096) to the Commerce, Justice and Science Appropriations Act of 2013 (H.R. 5326) would prohibit the Department of Justice (DOJ) from using funds in contravention of the Defense of Marriage Act (DOMA). The DOJ withdrew its defense of DOMA in the courts, and the House moved in 2011 to defend DOMA through an appointed counsel. The amendment seeks to ensure that DOJ will not begin litigating against DOMA in the future.

(Passed 5/9/12, 245 yeas to 171 nays, Roll Call No. 235) FRC Action and CitizenLink Supported this Amendment.

2. Allow Medical Marijuana

Offered by Rep. Dana Rohrabacher (R-CA), this amendment (H.AMDT. 1084) to the Commerce, Justice and Science Appropriations Act of 2013 (H.R. 5326) would have prevented funding to the Department of Justice from being used to prohibit states from legalizing medical marijuana. (Failed 5/9/12, 163 yeas to 262 nays, Roll Call No. 238) FRC Action and CitizenLink Opposed this Amendment.

3. Ban on Sex-Selection Abortion

Sponsored by Rep. Trent Franks (R-AZ), the Prenatal Non-discrimination Act of 2012 (PRENDA, H.R. 3541) would have banned sex-selection abortions by doctors, but would not authorize penalties against pregnant mothers. PRENDA would have ensured that sex-selection abortions are prohibited and would prevent demographic imbalances accompanying gendercide from occurring in the United States. The bill failed under the two-thirds requirement under a fast tracked rule despite receiving a majority of votes.

(Failed 5/31/12, 246 yeas to 168 nays, Roll Call No. 299) FRC Action and CitizenLink Supported this Legislation.

4. Repealing Health Care Law

Sponsored by Majority Leader Eric Cantor (R-VA), the Repeal Obamacare Act (H.R. 6079) would have repealed both the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act, (PPACA, P.L. 111-148) signed into law March 23, 2010 and the Health Care and Education Reconciliation Act (P.L. 111-152) signed into law March 30, 2010. The House voted to repeal Obamacare after the Supreme Court upheld the law on June 28, 2012. PPACA and the companion bill allow for taxpayer funding for abortion, authorize the rationing of health care by the newly established Independent Payment Advisory Board and undermine conscience protections.

(Passed 7/11/12, 244 yeas to 185 nays, Roll Call No. 460) FRC Action and CitizenLink Supported this Measure.

5. Presidential Nominations Act

Sponsored by Senator Charles Schumer (D-NY), the Presidential Appointment Efficiency and Streamlining Act (S. 679) previously passed the Senate June 29, 2011. This bill would allow the President to make appointments to thousands of government positions without going through the Senate confirmation process. President Barack Obama signed this legislation into law on August 10, 2012.

(Passed 7/31/12, 261 yeas to 116 nays, Roll Call No. 537) FRC Action and CitizenLink Opposed this Bill.

Ban of Abortion on Pain-Capable Unborn Children in the District of Columbia

Sponsored by Rep. Trent Franks (R-AZ), the District of Columbia Pain-Capable Unborn Child Protection Act (H.R. 3803) would have banned doctors from performing abortion in the District of Columbia on unborn children after twenty weeks, while exempting pregnant mothers from any penalties. Unborn children having surgery as early as twenty weeks routinely receive anesthesia because they can experience severe pain. The Constitution grants Congress authority over all District laws, and the District Council repealed any restrictions on abortion. This bill bans the painful practice of abortion on unborn children at this age. The bill failed under the two-thirds requirement under a fast tracked rule despite receiving a majority of votes. (Failed 7/31/12, 220 yeas to 154 nays, Roll Call No. 539)

1. Confirmation of Jesse M. Furman to U.S. District Court

On June 7, 2011, Jesse Furman was nominated by President Barack Obama to the U.S. District Court for the Southern District of New York. In 2001, Mr. Furman drafted an amicus brief on behalf of the Anti-Defamation League in the Supreme Court case Good News Club v. Milford Central School. In this brief, he argued against the free exercise rights of a Christian group seeking access to public school buildings during non-school hours, even though it was clear they were not part of a school sponsored event. Mr. Furman went so far as to argue that excluding the Good News Club was consistent with the First Amendment to the Constitution because such clubs believe in the core claim of Christianity that salvation is through Christ. The Supreme Court soundly rejected this attempt to re-write the First Amendment. Mr. Furman's disregard for the free speech rights of Christians and his high profile involvement with ultra-liberal activist causes pose questions as to his ability to maintain an impartial temperament.

(Confirmed 2/17/2012, 62 ayes to 34 nays, Roll Call No. 21) FRC Action and CitizenLink Opposed this Confirmation.

2. Motion to Table the Respect for Rights of Conscience Act

Offered by Senator Roy Blunt (R-MO), this amendment (S.AMDT. 1520) to the "Highway" bill (S. 1813) contained the "Respect for Rights of Conscience Act of 2011" (S. 1467). The amendment would have ensured that the conscience rights of health care professionals, insurance providers and purchasers of insurance were protected. Specifically, this amendment would have protected against the President's "contraception mandate" that went into effect August 1, 2012, and which created a two tier religious caste system for religious employers that are exempt and those which are not considered religious enough to be exempt from the mandate. This mandate forces health plans to provide, free of charge, abortifacients, contraceptives and sterilization services. Majority Leader Harry Reid (D-NV) offered a motion to table the amendment.

(Tabled 3/1/2012, 51 ayes to 48 nays, Roll Call No. 24) FRC Action and CitizenLink Opposed this Motion.

3. Confirmation of Michael Walter Fitzgerald to U.S. District Court

Nominated on July 20, 2011, by President Barack Obama to the U.S. District Court for the Central District of California, Mr. Fitzgerald has supported liberal activist organizations and worked to promote homosexual rights in the state of his judgeship. Mr. Fitzgerald supported activist organizations, such as the Harvard-Radcliffe Gay and Lesbian Caucus that opposed ROTC recruiting at Harvard at the same time now-Supreme Court Justice Elena Kagan was Dean at Harvard Law and refused to allow ROTC recruiters on campus. Mr. Fitzgerald also provided pro-bono work in the 1990 case, Buttino v. F.B.I., in which an FBI agent alleged he was wrongfully dismissed for his sexual preference only to be shown during the case to have lied during an FBI investigation. Mr. Fitzgerald also worked to oppose Proposition 8 in California and failed to mention many of his actions in a questionnaire to the Senate that would have revealed potential conflicts of interest.

(Confirmed 3/15/2012, 91 ayes to 6 nays, Roll Call No. 50) FRC Action and CitizenLink Opposed this Confirmation.

4. Reauthorization of Violence Against Women Act

Sponsored by Senator Patrick Leahy (D-VT), the Violence Against Women Reauthorization Act of 2011 (S. 1925) would reauthorize this 1994 law in a way that would fund government bureaucrats and liberal interest groups more than help and aid women who are subject to abuse. The bill also would discriminate against religious grantees who aid abused women if the grantees are opposed to homosexual behavior as a matter of faith

(Passed 4/26/2012, 68 ayes to 31 nays, Roll Call No. 87) FRC Action and CitizenLink Opposed this Legislation.

5. Cloture on Andrew David Hurwitz Nomination

On November 2, 2011, Andrew David Hurwitz was nominated by President Barack Obama to serve as U.S. Circuit Judge for the Ninth Circuit. This procedural motion required 60 votes to end debate in order to vote on the confirmation of Judge Hurwitz. Evidence reveals that Judge Hurwitz is incapable of being an impartial judge and would legislate from the bench. Mr. Hurwitz previously clerked for a Connecticut district judge who played a key role in a case informing Roe v. Wade. Indeed, Mr. Hurwitz in a 2003 law review article, "John O. Newman and the Abortion Decision," bragged about being "the clerk who wrote the Newman opinion." Roe v. Wade followed the logic of the previous case which opened the door to abortion on demand and the abortion of over 50 million American preborn children. (Passed 6/11/2012, 60 ayes to 31 nays, Roll Call No. 118) FRC Action and CitizenLink Opposed this Cloture Vote.

6. Cloture Motion on Nomination of Mari Carmen Aponte

In December of 2009, President Barack Obama nominated Mari Carmen Aponte to be Ambassador to the Republic of El Salvador despite her involvement in the 1990s with a reported Cuban spy. After her nomination languished in the Senate, President Obama gave her a recess appointment in August 2010 to last one year. After her temporary appointment ended in 2011, President Obama re-nominated Aponte despite widespread opposition to her confirmation by El Salvadorans due to her promotion of homosexuality and abortion while serving as acting Ambassador. On December 12, 2011, the Senate failed to close debate on her nomination by a 49 to 37 vote. In a reversal, the Senate held another cloture vote which passed June 14, 2012.

(Passed 6/14/2012, 62 ayes to 37 nays, Roll Call No. 121) FRC Action and CitizenLink Opposed this Cloture Vote.

7. Reconsideration of Cloture on Campaign Communications (DISCLOSE) Act

Sponsored by Senator Sheldon Whitehouse (D-RI), the Democracy Is Strengthened by Casting Light on Spending in Elections Act of 2012 (S. 3369) would add government restrictions on First Amendment free speech that was protected and encouraged by the Supreme Court ruling in Citizens United v. Federal Election Commission. This ruling overturned the prohibition on corporations and unions using treasury funds for independent expenditures in campaigns. The bill would redefine an "independent expenditure" to include the vague notion of "the functional equivalent of express advocacy." This would mean that any donation for a communication that mentions an incumbent candidate or party would fall under the campaign reporting rules even if the communication had nothing to do with a candidate's campaign. The effect would be to stifle the privacy of donors regarding communications unrelated to campaigns. The cloture vote failed on July 16 but Majority Leader Harry Reid (D-NV) offered a motion to reconsider the cloture vote on July 17th. This vote also failed the 60 vote threshold.

(Failed 7/17/2012, 53 ayes to 45 nays, Roll Call No. 180) FRC Action and CitizenLink Opposed this Cloture Vote.
